A program of:

STEM FROM DANCE

A STEM + Dance Summer Program

June 12 - 30

Girls Rise Up is a STEM + dance summer program where girls of color learn to code, dance, unlock their joy, step into their power, and discover their STEM potential — all through the power of dance.

Application Deadline: May 19

Girls Rise Up has locations in Brooklyn, Manhattan, and a virtual offering. Visit website for more details.

GIRLS RISE UP

The Experience

Over an unforgettable three weeks, you'll:

➡ Delve into topics like robotics, engineering, and machine learning

➡ Explore dance styles like Hip-Hop, step, and contemporary

➡ Create your own choreography

➡ Perform a tech-infused dance for friends and family

➡ Learn from people dedicated to seeing what's possible in STEM + Dance

➡ Build friendships and community

Jump into summer and expand your creativity, boost your confidence, build up problem-solving skills, and meet girls just like you.

Discover

how to use technology like motion capture and animation to enhance the choreography.

Activate

your imagination and showcase your creativity with like-minded girls.

Connect

with inspiring women who work in the STEM fields today, and learn about possible STEM pathways you can follow.
